

Softmatrix translations guide

In order for you to translate the system into a new language or edit a current one, check your backup code which you have received upon purchase and follow this guide.

- (i)
- (ii) Go to the locale folder of your backup code
- (iii) Find the language you need to edit, or simply create a new folder with your lang code
- (iv) Open the subfolder called LC_MESSAGES and find the default.po file
- (v) <https://poeditor.com/> go here and download the free PO editor
- (vi) Open the default.po file with the downloaded poeditor software

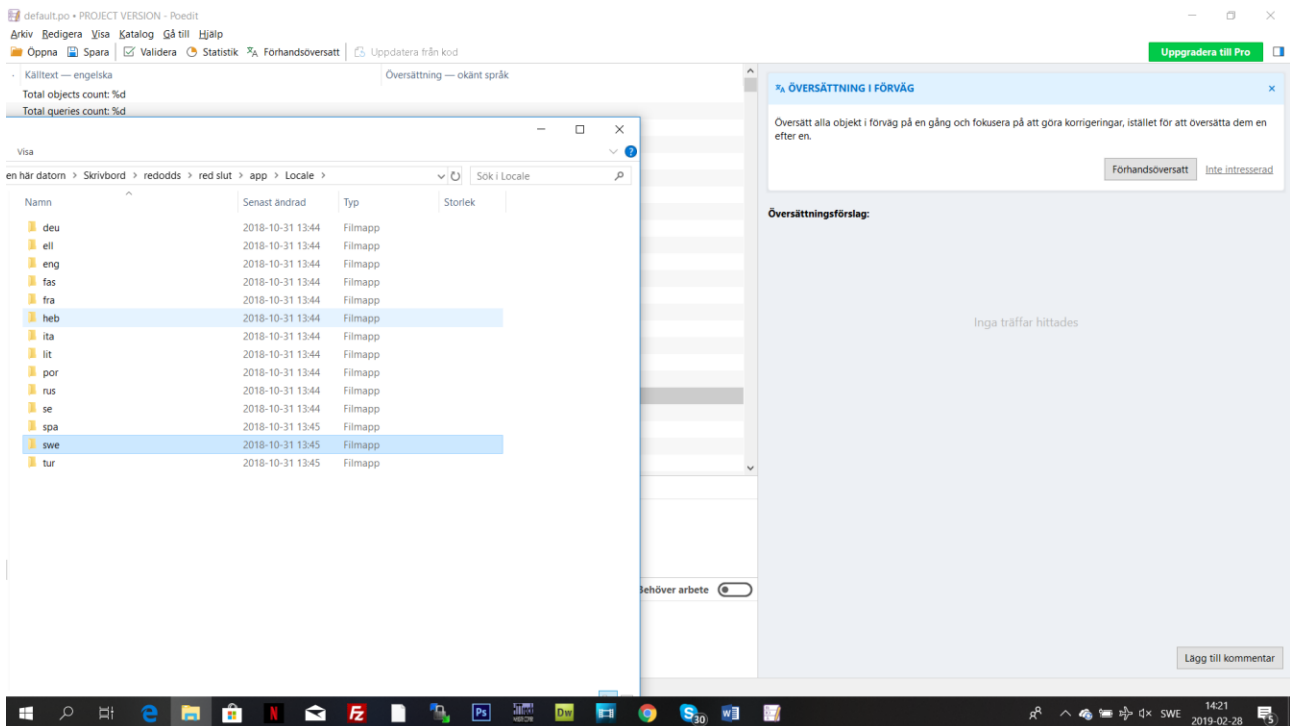

Within the POeditor software you can use a default language like English for example as starting point, translate all lines to the language you want and save as default.po file again.

Upload to the folder on the live server by same correct path (locale folder and sub menu lang) and the language will be online.

Some lines and phrases may be hard to understand correctly by the poeditor file so make sure you translate it all and then go back in order to re-check and verify a good result on the website.

The translation will cover both frontend (player side) and the backend (cpanel) of the entire system. If you only need the frontend side for players you can simply use this part to translate.

Do NOT save the edited file in a different name or folder

Do NOT generate warning messages within the poeditor software before save, if you get the translation broken by putting an invalid character somewhere, the language will be broken or not shown at all.
